Re: 2023 Cook County Jail Compliance Monitoring

Dear Sheriff T. Dart and Clerk K. Yarbrough,

A copy of the recent inspection report for the Cook County Jail is enclosed. The Illinois Compiled Statutes [730 ILCS 5/3-15-2(b)] mandates the Illinois Department of Corrections to inspect each county jail annually and to make the results of such inspections available for public review. Your offices should make this inspection report available for public review in the records of Cook County and you are encouraged to give notice to the citizens of your county, by news release or other means, that this inspection report is available for the public's review. The Jail and Detention Standards Unit staff is available for consultation should you desire. Please call (217) 558-2200, extension 4212.

Sincerely,

Edwin R. Bowen, Manager
Jail and Detention Standards Unit

The first county jail of Cook County was located on Hubbard Street in Chicago in 1835; arrestees being detained for less serious crimes were held at another location called the Bridewell on Polk and Wells in Chicago. In 1871, the Bridewell relocated to 26th and California and became the Chicago House of Corrections in August of 1871 originally housing 130 men, women and children. Due to overcrowding, the original county jail on Hubbard Street expanded on land adjacent to the Chicago House of Corrections to accommodate more detainees opening in 1929. In 1969, the Cook County Department of Corrections was formed combining the County Jail and the Chicago House of Corrections.

Present day, Cook County Jail (CCJ) spans more than ten city blocks and is comprised of over ten housing structures (divisions) including a health care unit that is staffed by employees of Cook County, the facility does not house juveniles.

On the days of the inspection, divisions two (dorm 2), five, six, eight, eight Residential Treatment Unit (RTU) and annex, nine, eleven, fifteen sixteen, the Vocation Rehabilitation impact Center (VRIC) and Cermak were in operation.

The Cermak Health Services Division is the health care division of CCJ. It was constructed specifically for health care services in a correctional setting replete with an emergency room and can accommodate 152 male and female detainees of all security levels. Cermak has ten tiers, sixty-one single cells and 22 group rooms. On the day of inspection there were 24 female detainees and 92 male detainees.

Division 2 was originally constructed in 1955 to hold 870 detainees. It now has four three story buildings that can accommodate 1970 detainees in a dormitory setting. On the day of inspection, dorm two was in use. This dorm houses detainees with a minimum/medium security level classification, the capacity is 464 detainees across ten tiers.

Division 5, constructed in 1975, houses detainees with a minimum/medium security level classification. This building includes administrative offices, dining room for staff and records. It has a capacity of 992, across 24 tiers with 496 double cells, on the day of inspection, there were 621 male detainees.

Division 6, constructed in 1976, houses detainees of all security levels. This building includes housing for RTU (SMART) program, veterans, protective custody, ConTextos program (conflict resolution) and protective custody. The capacity is 992 across 24 tiers with 486 double cells, on the day of inspection there were 834 male detainees.

Division 8 RTU houses male and female detainees of all security levels, it includes the THRIVE program and has protective custody. It has a capacity of 974, across 29 tiers with 80 double cells. On the day of inspection, there were 224 female detainees and 554 male detainees, the annex had 153 male detainees.

Division 9, constructed in 1992, houses male detainees with a maximum-security level. This structure includes four tiers for detainees that exhibit disciplinary issues while in custody, some protective custody tiers, the SAVE program tier and a worker's tier. This division also houses the radio control center for CCJ. The capacity is 1066 across 25 tiers with 529 double cells and ten single cells. On the day of inspection there were 756 detainees.

Division 11, constructed in 1995 houses male detainees of all security level classifications. It includes housing for detainees involved in the Recipe for Change and Second Chance Programs. The capacity for Division 11 is 1532 across 32 tiers with 764 double cells and 4 single cells. On the day of inspection there were 1418 male detainees housed in Division 11.

Division 16, constructed in 1997, currently houses boot camp and the Tails of Redemption program detainees. The military barracks styled division has a capacity for 200 detainees across five tiers. There were seven male detainees at the boot camp on the day of inspection.

Divisions two (dorms one, three and four), three, three (annex), four and ten were not in operation at time of inspection. Division three and seventeen were demolished in 2017 however the annex for division three is still present and is able to accommodate 434 detainees. Division four, opened in 1975 to accommodate 704 detainees. Division ten opened in 1992 was constructed to accommodate 768 detainees.

CCJ employees receive extensive in person training beyond security, emergency procedures, CPR, identification of signs and management of detainees with a mental illness or developmental disability. Their training also includes but is not limited to training for control devices and techniques and fire safety. Officers have less than lethal devices such as batons, tear gas, OC gel, restraint chairs (there is one on each division) and kinetic energy projectiles available. Jail posts are provided upon hire and can be accessed by all employees via computer. The jail uses Lexipol software to publish and disseminate their facility policy which is frequently updated. Changes to any policy triggers an email to users which requires electronic acknowledgement of the policy change.

The initial point of entry and point of release for detainees at CCJ occurs in the Receiving, Classification and Diagnostic Center where detainees are searched, identified and where they receive mental, medical and dental screenings before being assigned to a housing unit. Members of the medical team are employees of the county and are staffed daily on all shifts; additionally, each division at CCJ has a satellite nursing office in addition to the on-site hospital, thus medical staff is always available and in close proximity to detainees in need of assistance. CCJ is accredited by the National Commission on Correctional Health Care (NCCHC) through March of 2026 for its compliance with NCCHS's standards for health services in jails. They also preventatively re-established a new tier for detainees diagnosed with covid. They also hold a certificate for opioid treatment through October of 2025 via the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration Center for Substance Abuse Treatment.

Property of detainees is properly documented, inventoried, stored and returned via an elaborate conveyor system.

Sight and sound separation of female detainees from male detainees is maintained upon entry to the facility through discharge from the facility.

Detainees are released from CCJ with appropriate medication and/or prescription along with community referrals for care. CCJ is launching a pilot program in partnership with the Illinois Secretary of State to provide certain detainees being released with valid identification.

CCJ runs a massive laundry operation twenty-four hours each day. The facility is equipped with four huge washers, four huge dryers, one medium washer and one medium dryer. The jail even has an in-house tailor shop to modify and repair jail uniforms which includes instruction to detainees by a seamstress.

CCJ contracts with Summit Food Service LLC to provide meals for detainees through 2025. Menus were evaluated by P. Block a certified dietitian; they were found to meet the guidelines based on recommended daily dietary allowances. CCJ has an in-house bakery and has a halal and a kosher menu for detainees with religious or dietary restrictions. Per the Food Establishment Inspection Report dated 5/9/2023, there were no risk factor/intervention violations and no repeat risk factor/intervention violations present. The kitchen was clean, orderly and visually free of pests on the day of inspection. All freezers and coolers were in good working order.

CCJ's Building Team Initiative (BTI) is proactively renovating the entire compound so that it is similar to Division 9 which has polished concrete throughout and newer epoxy type floors in the housing units; this also includes actively combatting graffiti and moldy showers. CCJ was clean, orderly and visually free of pests and vermin at time of inspection. CCJ contracts with RB Pest Solutions through September of 2024 who provides pest services daily and on an emergency basis.

At time of inspection CCJ was staffed with 2490 full time officers and 313 civilian staff.

CCJ conducts supervisory checks 88% on time; a twenty-four-hour sample of 15 tiers was examined for this report between 11/23/2023 and 11/25/2023, the on time percentages for each tier examined are as follows: D6-2A-98%, D6-1N-83%, D6-1L-93%, D11-CB-87%, D11-AH-91%, D11-DG-83%, D8-3SE-91%, D8-3E-90%, D8-3N-85%, D8-RTU-2G-96%, D8-RTU-4G-

87%, D5-2L-84%, D5-1M-78%, D5-1M-79%, D9-2E-93%. Detainees are locked in their cells from 2300 hours to 700 hours daily.

Shakedowns are conducted on every living unit every day of the week throughout the facility, unlocked rooms and doors were secure at time of inspection. Keys are inventoried each shift and back up keys are securely located in every division. The CCJ facility has 18 generators, of which seventeen are diesel and one is gas. They are tested weekly on Thursdays or Fridays by Cook County Facilities Management personnel who also perform the monthly, quarterly, semiannual and annual maintenance.

In collaboration with Cermak, the Department of Facilities Management and The Chicago Fire Department, fire safety inspections are conducted weekly on each shift throughout, fire safety drills are conducted quarterly throughout. CCJ appoints and trains sworn officers to carry out this task for each division for each shift who meet on a monthly basis to review fire safety issues.

Phones are available on each tier throughout the jail, all mail is screened by members of the Intelligence Division daily Monday through Friday. Visits take place Monday through Friday from 1000 hours through 1800 hours and from 800 hours through 1800 hours on weekends. Detainees are offered two visits weekly for at least 20 minutes, extended visits are available for detainees with children.

CCJ develops in custody treatment plans for detainees interested in programming during their confinement via the Individualized Assessment and Strategic Assignment Program. Using information garnered from the intake process, an assessment is completed and provided to detainee during their first week at the facility. They also conduct rapid assessments of detainees attending bond court for mental illness and drug addiction, these detainees are identified to the public defender as they may qualify for specialty courtrooms such as Mental Health Court, Drug Court or Veterans Court.

CCJ offers restorative and enrichment programming in partnership with community agencies and volunteers which include creative expression, job readiness and personal transformation. There are over fifty participating community agencies including: Alpha Parenting, Aunt Mary's Bookstore, Beyond My Bars, Cabrini Green Legal Aid, Drama and Improv via Northwestern Acting Class, Emages Treatment Group, Families' and Childrens Aids Network, Peace Circle, Storytelling Lab and LGBTQ Group to name a few.

CCJ offers substance use treatment programs that include cognitive behavior therapy via THRIVE program for women and the SMART program for men. Successful participants are eligible to participate in the SOAR program which offers electronic monitoring for opioid users. This program connects detainees to community resources to address their needs and goals in education, vocation, employment and spirituality.

CCJ's Vocational Rehabilitation Impact Center (VRIC) is a court ordered program. Detainees in this program participate in the Neighborhood Restoration Initiative where they learn deconstruction techniques on distressed properties in Cook County. They receive post release supervision as well, including job-readiness and job placement while on electronic monitoring for eight months' time.

CCJ offers educational and literary service programs including adult basic, secondary education and GED prep administered by CCJ staff and volunteers, PACE Institute, Consuela B. York Alternative High School, the Sheriffs Higher Education Collaborative which includes the City Colleges of Chicago, DePaul University, Dominican University, Northeastern University, North Park University, Northwestern University, University of Illinois at Chicago and McCormick Theological Seminary. Additional community partners include After School Matters, John Marshal Law School, Rush University and the University of Chicago.

CCJ has a mental health transition center that provides mental health treatment and substance use treatment, criminal risk reduction and intervention, vocational skills training, educational services and discharge planning in order to facilitate transition back to community. This program services current and former detainees of CCJ.

CCJ has an anti-violence program called SAVE that targets 18-25 year old males who are likely to perpetuate or become the victim of violence. It uses cognitive behavior therapy to effect rehabilitation and reduce post release violence by instilling positive social norms on detainees by teaching alternative ways to manage conflict and improve relationships.

CCJ has a human trafficking response team that work in partnership with the sheriffs police and mental health professionals, medical health professionals and addiction specialists to help human trafficking victims.

CCJ has LGBTQ programs and services who ensure that their housing, medical, psychological and general safety needs are met. They are connected to community resources including Chicago House and Howard Brown upon discharge. During their confinement at CCJ, they receive dedicated beauty/barber shop time and gender affirming undergarments upon request.

CCJ's healthy moms and babies program connects detainees to doulas and research supported services for support throughout pregnancy through delivery. Detainees with children are referred to a home visitor for parenting support through the child's fifth year.

CCJ offers expanded contact visitation which supports family engagement and reunification. They are working to minimize barriers for families attempting to visit the institution. They also increased the number of children allowed to visit to three and are actively making an effort to conduct law enforcement and security practices out of sight of visiting families unless an emergency occurs.

CCJ has chess instruction which helps detainees with critical thinking and logic which may ultimately help the detainee work through conflict.

CCJ has a twelve-week job readiness urban farm and garden program. Detainees learn business operations, production, packaging, delivery, bookkeeping and marketing, providing them with marketable job skills upon discharge. This program operates from February to October annually, the flower harvests are sold to local restaurants, florist and at farmers markets with the proceeds benefiting detainee welfare initiatives. The jail has also initiated talks with Lincoln Park Zoo to provide the zoo with unsold produce. CCJ also has two working beehives which operate during the same time frame teaching detainees sustainability and entrepreneurship. The proceeds from this program directly support inmate detainee welfare initiatives.

CCJ has a culinary program called Recipe for Change. This program provides culinary training to detainees to prepare them for employment upon discharge operated by a registered dietitian. Detainees receive training in commercial cooking techniques, sanitation practices, safety protocols and customer service earning safe food handler certificates upon completion of the eight-week course. The pizzas made in this program are offered for sale to detainees at Cook County Jail and sell out on a daily basis.

CCJ has an art program from which certain participants are allowed to paint murals on the walls of Division 11, a welding program and a recording studio with instruments.

Detainee banking and commissary services are provided by CBM Premier Management through 2025. Detainees are prohibited in commissary which is located near the kitchen. Commissary is open daily Monday through Friday from 700 hours to 1500 hours providing services to each unit once a week. Commissary orders are delivered to detainees by contracted staff and are verified in the presence of the detainee. Any discrepancies are rectified the same day requiring the detainees acknowledgement with signature. An audit for the period of December 2021 through November 2022 of the commissary was conducted by the Cook County Auditor. Per this audit, the commissary services offered to detainees at CCJ comply with the requirements of the Illinois Jail Standards, Section 701.250, net profits from the commissary are used for record keeping purposes.

NON-COMPLIANCES WITH ILLINOIS COUNTY JAIL STANDARDS

701.130 Supervision

3. Are supervisory checks conducted at least once every thirty minutes and documented in the shift record for indirect supervision housing?

A twenty-four-hour sample of fifteen occupied tiers was examined for this report. CCJ conducted thirty-minute supervisory checks on time 88% of the time.

Per Illinois Administrative Code, Title 20 Correction, Criminal Justice and Law Enforcement Chapter I: Department of Corrections Subchapter F: County Standards Part 701 County Jail Standards Section 701.130 Supervision Part A2 Shift Coverage "A jail officer shall provide personal observation, not including observation by a monitoring device, at least once every 30 minutes...."

RECOMMENDATIONS

CCJ should ensure that all detainees are showered when admitted in the Receiving, Classification and Diagnostic Center per Illinois Administrative Code, Title 20 Correction, Criminal Justice and Law Enforcement Chapter I: Department of Corrections Subchapter F: County Standards Part 701 County Jail Standards Section 701.40 Admission Procedures, M. Showers-All detainees should shower or bathe when admitted.

CCJ should ensure that all trash and garbage is disposed of in a sanitary manner and not collected in cells throughout all housing units per Illinois Administrative Code, Title 20 Correction, Criminal Justice and Law Enforcement Chapter I: Department of Corrections Subchapter F: County Standards Part 701 County Jail Standards Section 701.120 Sanitation.

CCJ is proactively renovating the facility throughout via the BTI program and should continue efforts to ensure that facility is kept clear of etched or inscribed graffiti or writing and is free of trash, debris, loose tiles, mildewed showers, rust and peeling paint.

CCJ should consider providing all detainees with upper and lower undergarments.

CCJ should consider installing barriers on windows of cell doors throughout facility.
